Sacred Rocks Reserve Presents Workshop

How to Make your Mind Matter in the Quest of a Healthy Life

Experienced workshop leaders to lead three hour class that could change lives. Ellen Lochet, MA, PhD, and Sharon Courmousis, MBA, MS will lead a course in understanding how the mind controls stress in a positive or negative way and, can ultimately, bring about illnesses, and what you can do to improve the quality of your life today. The workshop will be held on April 3, 2009 from 1 to 4pm in the Clubhouse at Sacred Rocks Reserve, 1331 Shasta Way, Boulevard, CA 91905. Many people lead lives of quiet desperation, filled with physical or emotional pain, pain that never seems conquerable. But it is. Both Ellen and Sharon have been leading workshops like these, on opposite sides of the continental US, for over 25 years. Both Ellen and Sharon have personal experience with life-threatening disease. After learning some special techniques and spending time creating the lives they really want, both made changes that drastically improved their futures. Participants can learn these techniques over the three hours for a mere $20 workshop fee.

The Workshop is a hands-on program that covers:
Evaluation and measurement of your current situation;
Discussion and thinking of your desired outcome;
Creating a blueprint for moving forward. Everyone will walk away with a Personal, Tailored, Plan for a Life that Thrives.

Reserve by calling 619-766-4480 or stop by Sacred Rocks Reserve front office. Space is limited so call ahead.
